May 7, 2007
ET# 07A079-Rev. A (Page 1 of 10)
Date Received: 4/13/07
Date Completed: 4/27/07

TEST RESULTS:

The coated test panels were subjected to salt spray exposure per ASTM B117. The samples were extracted from the salt spray chamber at 10 minute intervals, immediately cleaned in distilled water, dried using clean compressed air and photographed to document the extent of corrosion on the coated surfaces.

The coated samples were ranked based on the amount of visible red rust corrosion products after each 10 minute exposure. The table given below gives the results of the corrosion rankings with a rank of "1" being the least corrosion and a rating of "5" being the greatest degree of visible corrosion on the exposed surface.
